Newark Community Street Team:
Solutions-oriented, community focused.
Providing assistance to professionalize your community-based intervention work, focusing on prevention, intervention and justice work.

About Us

Founded in May 2015, the Newark Community Street Team (NCST) is the City of Newark's community-based violence reduction strategy. Through a relationship-based mentoring and case management model, our Outreach Workers both engage with and recruit for services for youth and young adults who are at risk of becoming either victims or perpetrators of violence. NCST's Safe Passage provides students with safe navigation around their school zone. Our University Hospital Violence Intervention Program brings essential intercession to real and threatened conflicts. NCST also offers monthly public safety roundtables, trauma-informed mental health counseling, emergency assistance, job training, and transitional employment support. All of these Public Safety efforts are enhanced through a deeper understanding of community perceptions of law enforcement.

Our results- and community-driven violence reduction strategies use targeted casework and high-risk intervention programming to increase community safety in Newark. Whether you are looking for recruitment strategy, protocol development, or more, NCST provides assistance to help professionalize your community-based violence intervention, prevention and or justice work for you and your partner organizations. We leverage the experience and qualifications of our team to allow you to strengthen your foundation and expand your policy, capacity and strategic planning capabilities.

Our Services
